DEERFIELD BEACH – The Butler House Museum is one of 1,500 museums in the country that will be participating in the 2013 Smithsonian Museum Day, Saturday, September 28, 2013. Museum Day is an annual event sponsored by Smithsonian Magazine that promotes free admission to participating museums by downloading a ticket from the Smithsonian website.

The Butler House will be open from 10 AM – 2 PM with knowledgeable docents available to guide you through the history of the house that helped to start it all in Deerfield Beach. The House is one of four historic sites located in the city that have been placed on the National Historic Register. The others sites include the East Coast Railroad Station, the Elementary School and the Old School House which is adjacent to City Hall. The Butler House is located at 380 East Hillsboro Blvd, Deerfield Beach, Florida. Annual memberships are available at a discounted price of $20 until October 31, 2013 to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Deerfield Beach Historical Society; the all volunteer entity that oversees the 4 properties. Citizens who are interested in joining our volunteer corp. are always welcomed.

For more information about the Deerfield Beach Historical Society, call 954-429-0378 or visit www.deerfield-history.org. To download a ticket for the Smithsonian Museum Day, go online at <http://www.smithsonianmag.com/museumday/Museum-Day-Faqs.html>.
