Conserve water

On Oct. 1, funding began again for the High Efficiency Toilet (HET) Rebate Program.

Since October 2011, the city of Deerfield Beach has distributed 78 toilets – paying residents nearly $8,000 and resulting in more than 3,000 gallons of water saved per day. That's 1,224,076 gallons saved per year. This year, the program is collectively planning to save 30 million gallons.

The Broward Water Partnership includes Deerfield Beach and 17 municipalities and water utilities. Together, these community partners pooled resources to provide their customers with cash rebates and other incentives for saving water.

"The city of Deerfield Beach is already following the countywide water use restrictions, but we all need to do even more to conserve," said Mayor Peggy Noland. "When we reduce the amount of water we consume, our current and long-term supply goals can be met. That means more water now and for the future."

Customers of participating utilities with toilets using more than 1.6 gallons of water per flush (gpf) may be eligible to receive up to two (2) $100 rebates for replacing their older model toilets with WaterSense® certified HETs that use 1.28 gpf or less. Residents are also eligible to receive free low-flow faucet aerators and showerheads. The older the original unit, the greater the potential water savings, as great as 70 – 90 percent, depending on the device.

Commercial and multi-family, properties, and non-profits, are also eligible, with the total number of allowable rebates determined on a case-by-case basis. High efficiency pre-rinse spray valves are available for commercial kitchens. Each replacement can save up to 400,000 gallons per year, the equivalent of 27 residential swimming pools. All participants must be pre-approved and other restrictions apply.
